

Dopper Changemaker Challenge - Junior

We need your help

Hey there! I'm Stella and together with my friend Simon and my talking skunk Stinky, I'm traveling the world to find solutions to single-use plastic. Everywhere we go, we challenge children to help us solve the plastic problem. In the UK, Nepal, Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands. Plastic pollution might be everywhere, but so are children. And it is our turn to rewrite the plastic story!

This plastic story needs a happy ending

On our travels, we met a lot of animals that had become ill because they ate plastic: seagulls, dolphins, turtles and seals. They thought plastic was food and ate it. Not very tasty and a bad idea, because plastic is toxic. And there is A LOT of it floating around in our oceans. Let's change the way the plastic story ends and come up with a solution!

Visit the website at: <https://dopper.com/changemaker-challenge-junior> for more information and to sign yourself up and get started!

Have Fun!