

Ask your child to leave the group and change their appearance (in a way that you can see, eg. rolling their sleeves up, untying a shoe lace, taking off their glasses etc.).

Your child then re-joins the group and the others have to guess what has been changed.

Swap over.

This could also be adapted to change one thing in the room.